

NICOLE DOTSON

Northside Economic Empowerment Center Manager

Nicole Dotson is the Northside Economic Empowerment Center Manager for St. Louis Development Corporation (SLDC). She is a St. Louis City native and has compassion for economic growth, education and community building. With more than 20 years of experience in finance, workforce development, management and facilitating training workshops, she has worked with diverse groups of individuals in reentry, community development, non-profit and corporate sectors. Countless individuals have been coached, trained, mentored and counseled by Nicole in the areas of personal and professional development, career counseling, intimate partner violence and relationship enrichment. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Management from Webster University and recently completed her course work at the master's level in Clinical Mental Health from Lindenwood University.

Nicole previously worked as a Programs Manager at St. Louis Agency on Training and Employment (SLATE).

ST. LOUIS DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

developstlouis.org

